

CASE: ENDOWMENT

Jesuit has a long tradition of ensuring that an exceptional education can be offered to young men of diverse economic backgrounds. The school does not turn away qualified students because of financial difficulties. This commitment, made possible by the endowment, is what ensures that Jesuit will always be Jesuit.

Each year Jesuit dispenses more than $700,000 in need-based scholarships to more than 160 families who otherwise would be unable to afford a Jesuit education. The Minds and Hearts Enlightened campaign will enhance the school's endowment, allowing for even greater access to the formation that prepares tomorrow's difference-makers. A broad socio-economic base within the student body maintains an environment at Jesuit that adequately reflects the world for which the students are being prepared and provides what is sometimes referred to as the education within the education.

Students graduating from Jesuit over the last ten years have received more than $200 million in scholarship offers. A Jesuit education provides these opportunities for access to higher education and subsequent professional growth.

50 ZIP CODES

Jesuit students live in more than 50 zip codes from Abita Springs to Westwego, coming from a wide range of economic, religious, and ethnic backgrounds.

160 STUDENTS

On average 160 students receive financial aid each year—roughly three students in each classroom.
